

CONFERENCE LOCATION

Canberra has much to offer the visitor. It is not only the home of government but also many of the nation's cultural institutions such as

- Australian War Memorial
- Museum of Australian Democracy (Old Parliament House)
- National Gallery of Australia
- National Museum of Australia
- National Portrait Gallery

The Australian National University is one of the foremost universities in Australia and with its research schools holds a pre-eminent place in research in Australia. AMOS has much pleasure in having both the ANU Fenner School of Environment and Society and the ANU Research School of Earth Sciences as co-hosts for this conference.
